4th APCB 2012

VENUE : Convention Centre, Hotel Clarks Amer, Jaipur

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

I take this opportunity to extend a hearty welcome to all delegates and invitees who have congregated in this Pink City of Jaipur, India to participate in the 4th Asian Pacific Congress on Bronchology & Interventional Pulmonology being held from 19th January to 22nd January, 2012 under the auspicious of Indian Association for Bronchology (IAB).

Developments in the field of medical sciences and technology is a dynamic process, which continues to inspire all those involved in their respective field to set new benchmarks, and to that end regional and international meeting of minds, is the only way to ensue that the fruits of latest techniques and innovations are implemented for the benefit of mankind.

Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology is one of the most important field of medical science, since a considerable section of humanity suffers from bronchial and pulmonary diseases. I have no doubt in my mind that the APCB 2012 will encompass a comprehensive array of workshop and topics for discussion in the field of Bronchoscopy, Autofluorescence diagnosis, Endobronchial therapy, stenting TBNA, CT Navigational Bronchoscopy etc. The workshop is one of the essential component of this conference, and is scheduled to provide education and hands on training in advanced technologies to over 700 participating Interventional Pulmonologists worldwide.

The presentations planned will include the keynotes addressed by most experienced experts in this field, special interactive programs and workshops to share the knowledge among participating delegates, so as to enable and equip everyone to combat the bronchial and pulmonary disease on a war footing in their respective area of influence.

I am sanguine that once the rigmarole of this congress concludes, everyone participating will feel enriched with a new vigour to delve in their sphere of activity for enriching the lives of a vast majority of suffering humanity.

I am confident that this visit to the historic city of Jaipur, with a rich composite culture would add a feather in the cap of all national and international delegates. Jaipur has so much to offer in terms of history, culture, cuisine and most of all a vibrant face of smiling India, which the delegates would cherish in times to come.

FROM THE DESK OF ORGANIZING SECRETARY

Dear Colleagues,

Jaipur is named after its founder, the warrior and astronomer sovereign, Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh. It is a corroborative evidence of Sawai Jai Singh's strong grounding in science and astrology with a strong instinct for planning and is well known for its rich culture and hospitality.

Continuing this tradition of hospitality, it gives me immense pleasure to welcome you all to Jaipur, pink city of India for 4th Asia Pacific Congress on Bronchology & Interventional Pulmonology jointly organized by Asia Pacific Association on Bronchology (APAB) & Indian Association for Bronchology (IAB); scheduled from 19th to 22nd January at Hotel Clarks Amer, Jaipur.

As we host this mega event, efforts have been made to make the content of this conference comprehensive so as to make it interesting both to beginners as well as to those interested in advanced training. Special thanks go to all the experts from APAB and IAB for their inputs which helped us in formulating this scientific programme.

The scientific program of APCB 2012 will cover a wide array of topics in Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology. Workshops on basic Bronchoscopy and Interventional Bronchoscopy, EBUS, Thoracoscopy, Stenting, TBNA, Navigation Bronchoscopy, etc. will be novel attractions. Best video, Quiz for PG students, Meet the Professor session and poster competitions have also been included.

I convey my special thanks to all national and international faculty, who spared valuable time from their busy schedule, and agreed to be a part of this conference. I am also grateful to all the delegates for their inspiring response. I hope participation in this conference will be academically rewarding and you will enjoy your stay in Jaipur.

Message

I am glad to know that the 4th Asian Pacific Congress on Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology (4th APCB 2012) is being organised jointly with BRONCOCON 2012 under the auspices of Indian Association for Bronchology from January 19 to 22, 2012 at Jaipur. A Souvenir is also being brought out on this occasion.

In view of the growing problems of bronchial disorders, there is an urgent need to discover new techniques for bronchoscopic diagnosis and treatment. Our research should be directed to provide instant relief to patients suffering from bronchial disorders particularly those suffering from asthma. Moreover, people should be made aware of how to avoid bronchial and pulmonological disorders. Research being made in the field of Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology need to be taken to greater heights. Conferences of such kind provide good opportunity to know about various new techniques being used in bronchoscopy and Pulmonology. I congratulate Asian Pacific Association on Bronchology (APAB) and Interventional Pulmonology for organising this Asia-Pacific Congress in Jaipur.

I hope that the Congress will provide a good platform to Bronchologists, Pulmonologists, Chest Physicians and Thoracic Surgeons to share knowledge and experiences.

I send my good wishes for the success of the Conference as well as for the publication of the Souvenir.

Message

I welcome you all to this historic moment for India and specially for Jaipur where 4th Asian Pacific congress on Bronchology & Interventional Pulmonology Jointly with BRONCON 2012 is being organized.

This event will include all top Asian bronchologist who will pool their mind together to discuss about newer techniques in diagnosing and solving various tracheo – bronchial problems and improve technical care in patients.

Videoscopy, Navigational bronchoscopy and other newer techniques have revolutionized the treatment procedure and reduced the surgical aspect of management in number of patients.

I wish all success to this conference and welcome delegates once again to enjoy scientific deliberations and the warm hospitality of Rajasthan and Jaipur.

Looking forward to greet you.

1. I am delighted to note that 4th Asian Pacific Congress on Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology (4th APCB 2012) is being organised jointly with BRONCON at Jaipur under the auspices of Indian Association of Bronchology (IAB) from 19th to 22 Jan 2012.

2. The process of nation building, modernisation and development have a direct impact on the health sector of the nation due to increasing levels of air and environmental pollution wherein the incidence of respiratory illness in general and bronchial problem in particular are on an increase. Although, we have surmounted the problem of tuberculosis, we are now confronted with various types of allergies which is a major challenge for our medical research fraternity. However, due to improved diagnosis and effective medical therapies ; emerging and remerging respiratory illness are being dealt with effectively, our research in respiratory diseases needs to be carried forward to provide succor to the masses. I am confident that our highly professional medical fraternity will meet the challenges most effectively and ensure a healthy future for the community.

3. I am sanguine that this international conference will generate interesting discussions and will provide a professional platform for learning for the younger generation of doctors and specialists.

4. I wish the deliberations at 4th APCB 2012 a grand success.

MESSAGE

Jaipur is the city where the ideas of APCB was firstly discussed during the 6th annual meeting of IAB (Broncocon2000), 11 years ago. Jaipur is, therefore, the motherland of APCB. I wish to thank from the bottom of my heart President Dr. Sarkar, Secretary General Dr. Gupta and all the Organizing Committee members for organizing 4th APCB at the beautiful pink city.

There are rapid progresses in the field of bronchology and interventional pulmonology on a parallel with the innovation of engineering and computer technology during the last decade. The bronchoscopic and thoracoscopic techniques became sophisticated and are contributing for further improvement of tailored medicine and prevention by gene analysis using small specimens obtained by advanced endoscopic technique.

The mission of the APCB is to contribute further progress of the art and science of bronchology and interventional pulmonology in the Asian-Pacific region. The advancement of bronchoscopy and thoracoscopy includes EBUS-TBNA, autofluorescence bronchovideoscopy, OCT, virtual bronchoscopy, narrow band imaging and so on, and it is very important to train the advanced techniques of these newly developed endoscopies.

First APCB was held at Chiba, Japan in November 25 and 26, 2005, and 2nd and 3rd APCBs were held at Singapore in July 13 and 14, 2007, and at Guanzhou, China in November 7 and 8, 2009, respectively. The history of APCB and APAB is short, however, its future possibility is believed to be large.

I am looking forward to establishing great success and fruitful results of 4th APCB, and also hope that this Congress will strengthen the further sustainable progress of APCB toward bright future.

Dear Organizing Committee,

It is with great pleasure that the American Association of Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology take part in the Asia Pacific Conference on Interventional Pulmonology. The quality of the faculty, the location, the hospitality of the organizing committee, and the Indian Society of Bronchology will make for an outstanding learning experience for all. It is our hope to continue to advance the field of bronchology through meetings such as these. Thank you for hosting this wonderful event and inviting the American Association of Bronchology to participate.

Sincerely,

Gerard A. Silvestri, MD, MS
Professor of Medicine
President American Association of Bronchology
and Interventional Pulmonology

Congratulation:

Great Success of the 4th Asian Pacific Congress on Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology!

Prof. S K Sarkar and Prof. M L Gupta have greatly contributed to the field of our specialty by having the so nicely organized 4th APCBIP. I do believe that all participants have appreciated, and been satisfied with, the content of this unforgettable meeting in such a lovely place of Jaipur. I am among those who have enjoyed, and been honored by, attending this meeting by heartily invitation as the Chair of the WABIP, the World Association for Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology.

The APCB has been biennially held by APAB, which was successfully organized under the great leadership of Prof. Fujisawa, whereas the WCBIP being run by the WABIP also biennially, alternately each other. I am very glad to be invited to this conference just after completion of the remodeling of the WABIP. We see this is the new first step for both societies to make together in order to further encourage all medical personnel working in this ever attracting field.

The WABIP wish many national/regional societies for bronchology and IP to also join the WABIP to unite the entire world. Taking this opportunity I myself would like to invite the Indian colleagues also to unite with the WABIP.

Thank you again Prof. Sarkar and Prof. Gupta, as well as all who have organized the 4th APCBIP!

Hiroaki Osada, MD

Chair of the WABIP

MESSAGE

Dear Colleagues,

It is a distinct honor and privilege for me to invite and welcome outstanding dignitaries and fellow delegates from the entire world to attend 4th Asia Pacific congress on Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology (APCB – 2012) held jointly with 17th National Conference of Indian Association for Bronchology (BRONCOCON 2012) from 19th to 22nd Jan. 2012, under the auspices of IAB in the historical city of Jaipur, India.

The venue of this conference is B M Birla Science and Technology Centre, located in the heart of Jaipur city and one of the most prestigious convention centers of our country. This event has created a historical landmark for IAB to hold an international congress of this magnitude for the first time. This will also elevate the reputation and dignity of IAB worldwide for which we all should be proud of. APAB and Interventional Pulmonology, based in Chiba, Japan is the parent organization of this conference APCB 2012. I am extremely thankful to them for giving us a great opportunity to hold this mega event and confining trust and confidence in the capability of IAB.

The scientific program of APCB 2012 will cover array of topics in Bronchology and invasive Pulmonology, live interactive workshops, hands on training in basic and advanced interventional procedures like EBUS, Thoracoscopy, Autofluorescence bronchoscopy, and different therapeutics for endobronchial lesions. But what we are most proud of is to hold a workshop on Electro Magnetic Navigation (EMN) Bronchoscopy for the first time in India. This has given to all of us a golden opportunity to learn a totally new technology at our doorstep. We have gathered a great team of renowned and eminent faculty members from all over the world who will adorn this scientific fiesta. The scientific program has been carefully crafted in such a way that deliberations at conference will improve the knowledge and skills of all delegates and will outline a positive message to carry home. This conference will have accreditation of twelve hours.

APCB 2012 will also provide enriching cultural and social events to enjoy with your colleagues. The scientific exhibition will be an additional attraction and Jaipur will provide an excellent experience of hospitality and ambience.

So I extend a very warm invitation to welcome you to Jaipur and wish you a very fruitful and memorable APCB 2012. I wish that this conference will achieve a grand success with your overwhelming participation. I also wish you all a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Long live IAB and APAB.

With warm greetings and regards,

Dr. Shah Shirish P.

President IAB.

MESSAGE FROM SECRETARY

It gives me great pleasure that this souvenir is being published on the occasion of the 17th Broncocon . and the 4th APCB. It is the first time that APCB is being hosted in India under the able stewardship of Dr. S K Sarkar and his team. It is indeed a matter of great pride for India and it with a great sense of satisfaction and accomplishment that I pen down my thoughts for this souvenir.

The aim of IAB is to promote diagnostic and therapeutic bronchoscopy and to encourage and assist chest physicians in using bronchoscopy in their day to day practice. I am sure this souvenir as indeed this conference with its inputs on various diagnostic and therapeutic advances in bronchology will go a long way in helping us achieve this objective. I congratulate and thank Dr. S K Sarkar and his team for this great initiative. I welcome all the International and National Faculty and delegates and hope you have a grand time in our country in this beautiful and historic city of Jaipur and hope you carry home fond memories of an enlightening conference and an enjoyable sojourn.

MESSAGE

I am pleased to know that 4th Asian Pacific Congress on Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology (4th APCB 2012), jointly with BRONCOCON 2012 is being organized at Convention Centre, Hotel Clarks Amer, Jaipur from 19th to 22nd January, 2012 under the auspices of Indian Association for Bronchology (IAB).

I understand that several leading pulmonologists from India and abroad are participating in this conference. I am sure that this meeting will provide an excellent platform for them to share their knowledge and experience with their younger participants from our country. I am confident that the deliberations will dwell upon current clinical and therapeutic issue and review the recent advances in Bronchology and Interventional Pulmonology for improving patient care in India.

I congratulate the Organizing Committee for taking this initiative to organize this conference and wish the meeting all the success.

ABOUT RAJASTHAN

The land of Rajasthanis, (the land of kings or "the land of colours", is the largest state of the Republic of India by area. It is located in the northwest of India. It encompasses most of the area of the large, inhospitable Great Indian Desert (Thar Desert).

Jaipur is the capital and the largest city of the state. Geographical features include the Thar Desert along north-western Rajasthan and the termination of the Ghaggar River near the archaeological ruins at Kalibanga of the Indus Valley Civilization, which are the oldest in the Indian subcontinent discovered so far.

One of the world's oldest mountain ranges, the Aravalli Range, cradles the only hill station of Rajasthan, Mount Abu, famous for Dilwara Temples, a sacred pilgrimage for Jains. Eastern Rajasthan has the world famous Keoladeo National Park near Bharatpur, a World Heritage Site[3] known for its bird life. It also has two national tiger reserves, Ranthambore and Sariska Tiger Reserve, and a famous temple in Khatu, Sikar district, dedicated to Khatu Shyam Ji. Rajasthan was formed on 30 March 1949, when the region known until then as Rajputana, consisting of erstwhile princely states ruled by Meenas, Rajputs, Jats, Gurjars, and Muslims, merged into the Dominion of India.

ABOUT JAIPUR

JAIPUR, also popularly known as the Pink City, is the capital and largest city of the Indian state of Rajasthan. During the British rule in India, Jaipur was the capital of the princely state of Jaipur. Founded on 18 November 1727 by Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II, the ruler of Amber, the city today has a population of more than 3.2 million.

Jaipur is the first planned city of India, located in the semi-desert lands of Rajasthan. The city which once had been the capital of the royalty now is the capital city of Rajasthan. The very structure of Jaipur resembles the taste of the Rajputs and the Royal families. At present, Jaipur is a major business center with all requisites of a metropolitan city.
